There will be many activities awaits us. Since it is a survival skill camp, we will participate in exciting and challenging outdoor activities. We will not only learn about nature but outdoor survival too. We can also make friends there. I still keep in touch with the several people I befriended at the previous survival camp.

It is good to experience life outside our home and school. I was afraid to go at first. I had never stayed overnight anywhere on my own. The new experience boosted my self confidence.
